PAHOKEE — City Council this week showed signs of tapering off the fever of spot-zoning which it has been stricken ever since it put an entirely new zoning ordinance into effect last spring at a cost of many hundreds of dollars.

At Monday night's meeting, not only did the municipal governing body defer action on a request to change part of Barfield Hwy. back to commercial from its residential status, but it decided to check into a report that Orange State Oil Co. has purchased property in the industrial zone following Council's spot-zoning of a downtown area last summer to allow a new bulk plant to be placed in the center of town.

C-C Signs
Directors planned for the erection of C-C direction signs for tourists at downtown locations, pending approval of City Commission. Plans for special events to mark next Wednesday's homecoming were dropped until next year, for lack of time.

A five-man committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities of a citywide cleanup campaign for next spring. Additional committees were authorized to review the leaflet and brochure to see if revisions are needed.

President Lanier was authorized to write State Road Board Chairman Wilbur Jones urging expediting the urgently needed road repair work on SR 80 between Six-Mile Bend and Lake Harbor.

Three-Fifths Of Budget To Schools

BELLE GLADE — Three-fifths of the annual state budget goes in one way or another into Florida schools—teachers' salaries, equipment, and other items, Rep. Emmett Roberts told the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce Association Monday night.

Rep. Roberts spoke on legislation at the recent session, especially that relating to school issues. He also said that the junior colleges receive funds from the state and the regular state about $250 per student for those studying in junior colleges, as opposed to about $1,000 for those in the regular state colleges and universities.

The reasons for this difference are numerous, including the fact that the universities have greater and more advanced educational facilities, as well as providing housing, which is usually not offered in junior colleges, the legislator said.

He feels the junior colleges will provide a partial answer to the overcrowding of the regular universities, since they will take care of a part of the enrollment in the first two years of college. Many students who enroll in college drop out for one reason or another within the first two years, he said.

182,000 ACRE DEED: The deed has been signed. And 182,000 acres of timber land has been turned over to the State of Florida. For a number of years the state has operated the Blackwater River State Forest in Santa Rosa County. This was federally-owned land, but the state had the use of it. During this time, the state had been trying to acquire title to it so that it could become a permanent State Forest.

Since the land was in the hands of the agriculture department, Senator Robert L. Taylor, Agriculture Committee, was the man who was most active in working out the deal. The plan was already in the works through last year when the Navy spotted the land and put in a claim for it—said they needed it for three emergency landing strips. Holland argued that the Navy didn't need 182,000 acres of fine timber land for three landing strips.

And it turned out that the Navy wasn't sure they were going to build the strips anyway, just wanted the land "in case." Finally, after a lot of dickering, the state has agreed that if the Navy will forget about taking all of the land, they can have enough for three landing strips and the state will agree to build them. When Holland worked out this compromise, the Navy relented and the agriculture department said it had no objections. The deed was signed last week, officially turning over the land. The park will continue to be operated as a state forest.

FIREWORKS COMING? Congressmen Dan Rostenkowski and Dan Rostenkowski were in town last week to attend preliminary "Freedom of the Press" hearings. He is a member of the special three-man committee headed by John E. Moss (D-Cal.) to check on news censorship in federal agencies. Rostenkowski is a Clare Hoffman (R-Mich.) So far the committee has heard only representatives of government agencies to find out how they handle the release of information to the public.

Newsmen have long complained about getting the truth in government agencies because of the many ways the agencies have of hiding anything they don't want known. The committee has discovered more than 30 different methods of keeping news from newsmen. Real fireworks is expected later when some of America's top news and radio people will be invited to testify. One thing for sure, Fascist is sitting on a committee that can expect to make some of the top stories in 1956. Wait and see.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

FLORIDA— MAINTAIN OUR GUARD— The nation is following closely efforts of the United States and the Western world to writing from Russia positive commitments to back her professed peaceful intentions. In visits throughout Florida, we are stressing the need for continued preparedness as the essential element in attaining peace.

The United States must remember that Nikolai Lenin painted three masks for the ugly face of Communism, and one of the masks is a smile. He set forth alternate courses of aggression, subversion, and sometimes smiling appeasement. Whether the Soviet smiles or blusters, the national defenses must be maintained while we try to work out an honorable plan for peace.

FLORIDA CENSUS: Harold Colke, executive vice president of the state Chamber of Commerce, is backing us in our inquiry on the Census Bureau's downward revision of its 1954 estimate of Florida's population. The bureau has underrated Florida before in population estimates. This time the bureau has knocked 224,000 from its 1954 figure, earlier set at 3,524,000.

Harold writes: "May we urge you to look into this matter fully, as the statistics present a very strange picture." Friends who have studied the bureau's methods contend it is applying a rigid national formula, inapplicable to Florida, in estimating the number of our people. They advise the bureau relies heavily on the number of school children and point to Florida's heavy proportion of new citizens in the upper age brackets.

cracked corn, 15 pounds ground or rolled oats, 10 pounds citrus pulp, five pounds wheat bran, and 15 pounds of cottonseed meal. Use a limited quantity of high quality hay, Pace says. Give the animal all it wants at first, cut it to three to five pounds daily after he is on full feed.

Use care in starting the grain feeding. Give one pound at first, up it by a quarter to half pound daily. Feed steers twice daily; feed the grains first, then roughage; avoid abrupt feeding changes; and keep the stall clean and the animal brushed daily.

Grind the cereal grains to a coarse consistency when feeding show steers. If the ration is too fine, palatability drops. Mix rations daily, rather than large lots. Protein supplements usually are added to the ration at the rate of 10 to 15 percent, depending on age of the animal. Younger steers require a higher percent than older ones. Pace points out that oats and corn pulp add bulk to a ration and should be limited in the ration to not more than 15 percent.

Molasses usually is fed at the rate of one pint to one quart of water each feeding. This should be added to the ration after the grain and protein supplement have been thoroughly mixed. You want the ration to have a crumbly appearance.

A fitting ration for a 600-pound steer is 55 pounds

GLADES JEWISH COMMUNITY CENTER

Weekly Census

Jonas Lehrer was unanimously re-elected to remain as president of the Glades Jewish Community Center. All other present officers were asked to remain in their present status, at the nomination and election of officers after regular Friday night prayer meeting.

The building committee reported on proposed changes in the original plans with all of the committee's suggestions being approved by the members present. Tentative ground-breaking plans are in the making with one of the main speakers already announcing his desire to participate.

Martha Lee, president of the ladies' auxiliary, wishes to notify the members that plans for the celebration Hanukkah (Feast of Lights) are going ahead. The Sunday school will have a special party with all the extras that make up this celebration. The children at Sunday school are deviating from their regular course of study in order to become familiar with the holiday and its meaning. A short observance of lighting the Hanukkah candles will be handled by the younger members of the class while the traditional songs will be sung by the older members.

Seen Monk's "Better Half"?

Monk McCarthy's latest creation has the town talking again. You can see it parked in front of Monk's auto repair shop on Maple. Remember last year Monk cut two cars in half, and put their front ends together? You couldn't tell it the thing was coming or going. Sure attracted attention.

Now Monk's taken Tom Morgan's old sedan and completely restored one half of it. One side is as good as new, the other looks like—well, Tom's old car. "Sort of a before and after demonstration," Monk told me, "shows folks the kind of work I do."

From where I sit, some of Monk's ideas may look a little wild sometimes... but I wouldn't want to tell him how to run his business any more than I'd like him to tell me what beverage to enjoy. He always keeps a hot pot of tea in his garage—I'd rather have a cold glass of beer—but respect for each other's opinion is "auto"-matic with us both.

LEARNING TO TALK

A baby begins to talk when he has reached a certain maturity, which is usually at about twelve months of age. Part of the child's readiness to talk will depend on physical and mental maturity about which nothing can be done directly. But whether he will begin at the average age and whether he will consistently improve in effective talking, depends largely on the mother and father.

Both parents should talk to their baby; name things for him in simple sentences. They should speak in their natural voices—not in baby talk. As he tries to talk, they should approve his efforts with "that's right" before giving a better way of expression. They should avoid the hampering effects of trying to make the child pronounce words or in repeating certain expressions after them. The correct word or phrase will stick in the child's mind longer if it is explained once simply without an issue being made of it.

The parents should provide opportunities for the child to talk and not do all the talking themselves. They should not insist that the child talk or ask him to demonstrate his understanding of what is said in order to show him off to others. Conversation is a free exchange of ideas not an examination or exhibition period.

Mothers and fathers too, usually respond to greetings and farewells for their young child rather than insist that he respond. This is a method of teaching by example for when the child is older, he will want to greet his friends as his parents do.

A young child will learn more about the true spirit of courtesy from watching his parents than from being forced into formalities. Forcing will hamper rather than help social speech development.

Other adults should not badger the child with questions and teasing aimed at getting him to talk. The parents and well-meaning friends should understand that speech develops slowly and that self-expression requires patient help.

BELLE GLADE METHODIST GROUP PARTICIPATES IN CRUSADE

During the past week, Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Garrett and their son, Timothy, George Royal, R. S. Burr, of Belle Glade, and Dr. C. M. Cotton of West Palm Beach, and J. B. Hogan, jr. of Pompano Beach, made a good will tour of Cuba in the form of a laymen's stewardship crusade in the work of the Methodist Church. Rev. Victor Rankin of Camaguey directed the tour.

The party flew from Miami to Havana on Monday morning, and then travelled by automobile and boat on the island, returning by plane to Miami on Saturday afternoon. Their tour included the cities of Havana, Matanzas, Santa Clara, Cienfuegos, LaMozza, Manicargua, Camaguey, Holguin, Bagamo's, Preston, Mayari, and Antilla, as well as many smaller towns and rural communities. More than 30 Methodist institutions were listed, including churches, schools, colleges, a seminary, a youth camp, clinic, dispensaries, clinics, chapels, and other mission posts.

Services were conducted along the way with laymen from America as well as Cuban laymen speaking on stewardship, and a nightly sermon by Rev. Mr. Garrett or Dr. Cotton. On Friday night the group was welcomed at the Methodist Church at Antilla where the pastor, Perfecto Romero, has been supported by the men's brotherhood of Community Methodist Church for the past five years. The party reports they were given a royal welcome by the people of Cuba and that the work of the Methodist church in prospering throughout Cuba.

At the Sunday worship service at 11 a.m., at Community Methodist Church, Royal, Burr, and Mrs. Garrett will talk on the trip. At the evening service at 7:30, guest speaker will be Rev. A. D. Houghlin, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Pahokee. The lyric choir will sing.

Farm Values Up, USDC Reports

Florida has more farms today than it had five years ago, the value of its farms has advanced considerably in the past half decade, and mechanization continues its upward trend, according to Marion A. Leonard, manager of the U.S. Department of Commerce field office in Miami.

Releasing results of an analysis of a preliminary report of the Bureau of the Census from the 1954 census of agriculture on farming operations in the state as a whole, Leonard said the number of farms increased from 58,921 in 1950 to 57,542 last year, the value of land and buildings rose from an average of $15,460 to $28,466 per farm, with a corresponding increase of from an average of $57,231 to $112,88 per acre.

A corresponding gain took place in such facilities as telephones, electricity, tractors, motor trucks and automobiles. The number of telephones went from 10,233 farms reporting that facility in 1950 to 20,690 in 1954, and 50,502 reported having electricity last year, compared with 40,535 in 1950.

There were 13,477 farms, or nearly a fourth in the state, with televisions, the analysis showed.

Mrs. Hector Ouellette, Mrs. Bill Nicholson and Mrs. Douglas Thompson were co-hostesses at a shower given last week in honor of Mrs. John G. Abbott, at the home of Mrs. Ouellette. There were games and contests, followed by a display of the gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Driggers and daughter Debbie, were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Driggers. A birthday dinner was given in honor of both Jesse and his daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Thames and family have moved here from Moore Haven and are occupying the Lonnie Warren dwelling.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Horne and Samuel Carpen were weekend guests of their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nelson. The Horne home is in Macon, Ga., and Samuel, is a Dublinite.

Several new families moved into the Fisher Trailer Park over the weekend. Coming from Martinburg, W. Va. were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Montgomery and children Paula and Bob, also Mr. and Mrs. George Talbot. Coming from Michigan were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Scott and family who will stay here until spring. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Taylor and children of Lake Placid moved here last week for about 15 months.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Ming of Punta Gorda were weekend guests of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Martin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Crow and family of Miami Springs had Sunday dinner with his father, Alvin Crow, and sister, Mrs. Martha Hitchcock, and later visited and had supper with her mother, Mrs. Maggie Goodbread.

A family dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Willis was held on Sunday in honor of Mr. Willis' birthday. Attending were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Willis, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Laura Crow, and their children Barbara Jeanne, John and Joan.

Mrs. O'Neal Walker and her sister, Mrs. J. R. Littlefield of Miami have returned from Tampa where they attended the funeral of their grandfather, J. J. Gennille.

Linton Miller has returned from the veterans' hospital in Coral Gables and is convalescing at home.

Mrs. Carroll Warren and children have returned to their home in Macon, Ga. after several weeks visit here with Mrs. Mallie Fay Walker and other relatives.

Mrs. Frank B. Willis, Cub Scout den mother, was hostess to the Cubs at her home. Dick Willis was chosen denner and Neil Walker was chosen assistant denner for the first part of the year.

41,551 with piped running water, and 16,612 with home freezers in 1954 against 5,993 previously. The number of motor trucks went from 29,287 to 37,209, tractors, from 22,172 to 34,821, and automobiles, from 36,123 to 48,652.

The number of operators living on farms decreased from 49,046 to 45,904 in the five-year period, but there are more such operators not living on their farms today than five years ago, and more working off their farms, the report showed.

It's costing Florida's farmers far more to operate their farms today than half a decade ago. For example, machine hire rose from $5,898.181 in 1950 to $12,754.281 in 1954, the cost of hired labor went from $84,100.179 to $88,670.374, and feed for livestock and poultry increased from $31,840.018 to $46,344.448.

Florida's farmers last year paid $51,439.176 for fertilizer and $15,127.427 for gasoline and other petroleum fuel and oil, which was more than $4,000,000 more than was paid for gas and oil five years ago.

Sharon Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Roberts, was hospitalized from Saturday until Monday at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital.

Hi, Pardner!
by Roy Rogers

COWBOYS . . . The World Over

Let me tell you about cowboys from other countries. The Argentine cowboy is called a gaucho and the range he rides is known as the pampas. He sits on a thick sheepskin pad for easier riding and his lariat is a three-balled rope called a bolo. He's a hard riding cowpoke.

Dressed to withstand the bitter cold of Mongolia, this Mongolian cowboy uses a noose at the end of a long pole as his lariat. He's a tough little pony thief's specialty bred to stand the cold.

Although I've never met any, there are cowboys in Russia, too. This compelling Soviet cowboy from Kazakhstan gets directions by radio from an airplane and he directs his cattle westward.

Mexican cowboys have passed along to our cowboys many ways of working and dressing, which they inherited from the Spanish vaqueros who came to the New World long ago. See you on NBC TV on the Roy Rogers Show with more western drama.

Mother gives the Facts on Pedicure for Young 'Uns

Open-toed shoes are here to stay. And legs are—well, a center of interest. The glamour girl of tomorrow needs to look about those things today, and mother is the one to show her the right way. There are new ideas on pedicures—did you know? And new instruments to give toes the extra beauty.

Pedicure is different from manicure. You don't cut the nail in a rounded-off shape. You cut the nail straight across. This gives more toe protection and keeps nails from digging into the toe. You always remove polish before cutting the nails. Buy stockings at least a half size larger than the foot, and beware of shoes that are too narrow—they distort toes and nails. A new toe nail clipper, called Trim, automatically cuts and shapes toe nails correctly. It's safe and so strong—one clip gives the correct smooth cut. Proper clipping avoids stocking marks and gives a "chirped" pedicure.

While we are on the subject, Trim is wonderful for grown-ups, too—leaves a smooth nail edge. It's speedy and shapes the nail for maximum support of the foot. A nylon will ever be ruined by rough edges and sharp corners.

Yes, mother and daughter can make handsome use of this simple all steel, ever-lasting toe utility. A lady is never too young to be beautiful.

BAMBOO EXPERIMENT TO START EARLY IN '56

Experimental work in growing bamboo in Palm Beach County is scheduled to get underway early next year, according to Asst. County Agent E. L. Speer, in a report to the County Commission this week.

Speer recently visited the Barbours Lathrop Experiment Station at Savannah, Ga., to inspect bamboo cultivation. He also reported this week that some 500 acres of rice has been grown in the Glades during the past season and the yield on part of the crop went 50 bushels to the acre.
